

From the desk of President, Neurological Society of India.....

Dear Colleagues,

I would first like to thank all of you for your support to lead our prestigious society in 2013. Let me wish a very happy, healthy and peaceful year to all our members.

I would like to congratulate Dr P Sarat Chandra, Professor B.S. Sharma and their team for a very successful conference in Delhi. We have had a record attendance as well as an exhaustive scientific program with participation of the German colleagues and some of our AASAN colleagues.

Where do we want to go from here in future?

Though a multidisciplinary neurosociety may work only as a federal structure as an organization, it has some obvious advantages over smaller speciality groups. I think as a professional society we need to touch certain areas where initiation and coordination can be successfully done with the experience of some of our leaders and backing of the organization. Two main areas which can be immediately addressed are clinical research in neurosciences in the country and a forum for addressing the need of practising neurologists and neurosurgeons in smaller cities. We are making a small start with a young neurosurgeon forum which will be coordinate by Dr Manas Panigrahi and a practice forum with Dr V. P. Singh during the coming year.

I would encourage feedback from our members so that our team can work on some of these issues in near future.

See you all again in Mumbai in December.

Thank you,

Prof. C. E. Deopujari
